introduction

Mayor Ethan Berkowitz has signed Emergency Order EO-01 regulating bars, breweries, and restaurants to preserve public safety and #flattenthecurve.

Starting at 5:00 p.m. on Monday, March 16, dine-in service for food or drinks at bars, breweries and restaurants will be prohibited until 11:59 p.m. on March 31.

Many small businesses are being hugely impacted by the loss of customers and are innovating new ways to safely serve Anchorage during this mandated adjustment.

While we encourage everyone to follow social distancing protocols, we also know that food is a way to cope for many. Please use this guide as a tool to navigate eating local and supporting small businesses for the duration of this emergency order.

P.S - Wash your hands, cough into your elbow, don't touch your face, keep your distance from others, and PLEASE stay home if you can.

That's a wrap folks, but be sure to keep an eye out on our Facebook and Instagram for the most current information.

We are so grateful for all of the staff making our stress eating/drinking possible and social distance friendly! Please continue to shop small, eat local, and stay safe during this pandemic. If you choose to utilize this guide to forage for some local eats, BE SURE TO TIP YOUR SERVER!

I'm confident there are more restaurants, food trucks, and pop-ups that didn't make their way into this guide that are open for business during these limitations. Share your Emergency Order-01 finds using #FoodforThoughtAK #EO01FoodGuide so we can share with the community.
After all, that's what we're here for!
